

Glenn Thompson

Associate, Greenberg Traurig

Glenn Thompson is an associate at Greenberg Traurig. He focuses his practice on corporate matters involving Delaware corporations, limited liability companies, and limited partnerships. He works with buyers and sellers in negotiating acquisitions and divestitures, handles asset and stock sales, equity security offerings, conversions, and the structuring and operation of private equity funds and joint ventures. Glenn frequently renders closing opinions and third party legal opinions on Delaware entities and counsels Delaware corporations and special committees on corporate law and governance issues. Glenn has experience representing clients in corporate and commercial matters in the Delaware Court of Chancery.

Prior to law school, Glenn managed digital ad campaigns across multiple sports and entertainment web and mobile properties for Turner Broadcasting, including CNN.com and Sports Illustrated Digital.

Active in community service throughout his academic and professional career, Glenn currently serves on the board of Delaware College Scholars, a Delaware college preparatory program for high school students.