

Sydney Williams
Program Assistant

Sydney Williams was raised in Newark, Delaware and attended St. Andrew's School where she played field hockey and tennis, served as a Senior Admissions Ambassador, and more, in her four years there.

She is now a senior at Mount Holyoke College in South Hadley, Massachusetts, majoring in psychology and minoring in environmental studies. As a sophomore, Sydney helped create and lead MHC Votes! – a student-led task force to increase voting awareness and participation at Mount Holyoke. Sydney now serves in several capacities in her final year at Mount Holyoke.

- Research assistant, WISH Lab of Psychology
- Co-Chair of the Association of Pan-African Unity
- Social Media Coordinator for MH Planned Parenthood Generation Action
- Senior Admissions Ambassador
- Varsity Field Hockey

This year, Sydney will be researching mental health stigma in the black community for her Honors Thesis in Psychology. She plans on pursuing a master's degree in mental health counseling after graduating from Mount Holyoke in May.

Sydney has worked for DCS since the summer of 2017, serving in a variety of roles before returning to her original position as Program Assistant. She enjoys bonding with students, content creating, and helping Jake run the DCS social media accounts.
